Greeks and Bulgars Clash.

The first concrete evidence of friend between Greeks and Bulgarians and sund sund Greek forces, according to press dispatches, have come in confact. If an offensive movement toward Saloniki is undertaken, it is hardly likely Greece will intervene as she must grant the same facilities to the central powers as she accorded of the entente allies, if the present policy of neutrality prevails. While the Germans, Austrians, Bulgarians and Tarks are concentrating troops along the front of Greece's Masedonian borust, the entente allies are conselessly descriping men and munitions at Saloniki. Several months will be necessary, however, before they can hope to madertake an offensive movement on a scale which could possibly succeed.

Germany Pians Two Strokes.

Paris reports Germany is preparing two gigantic strokes, one against Calais, and the other towars Egypt, in the hope of ending the war by smashing blows at those vital strategic points. German guns are busy along the western front, but no further evidence has been received of an offensive there.

La Follette Will Return to State In January and February to Deliver Addresses.

Addresses.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZMITE]

Madison, Wis. Dec. 21.—When Senator La Follette concludes his speech at Appleton tonight he will return to Madison, attend to a few things here needing pressing attention, and then go to Washington to spend Christmas with his family. Although definite announcements could not be had it is understood that the senator's future speaking engagements in the state will depend much on the progress of legislation before congress. He hopes to return here by the end of January and make a few speeches and also speeches in February.

The reason the senator has spoken in some of the smaller cities of the state during the past two weeks is because the larger cities will be reserved for later meetings. At these he will be able to come back at almost any time and secure an audience in the larger cities of the state. At the law offices of Senator La Follette it was stated that applications for a large number of speeches had been received and that all of these would be filled, but that there must necessarily be some delay owing to the work of congress.

FOUR ROADS ASK A CHANGE IN RATING

Freight Carrying Lines Start Back Fire on Demand of Shippers for Reduction In Rates.

Fire on Demand of Shippers for Reduction in Rates.

Four railroads carrying Ireight in Wisconsin have filed a petition with the state railroad commission asking a change in the rates now governing the handling of a score of commodities. These goods, which have been handled on commodity rates, will be placed in the scale of class rates, if the petition of the roads is granted. This, it is said, would mean a decided increase in the tariff in every instance. The railroads signing the petition are: The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha; Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul; Chicago, & Northwestern and the Soo Line. Some commodities on which they ask a change in rates are: Lumber, pulpwood, sugar beets, mixed carloads of grain and seeds, leaf to-bacco, butter and eggs, live stock, tan bark and brick and tile. The Chicago & Northwestern is alone in a separate plea, for a change in the classification of ice.

Considered Cross Petition.

Secretary McDowell of the Janesville Commercial club said today that in shipping circles the petition of the railroads is looked upon as a cross petition to one filed with the state railroad commission and the interstate commerce commission by shippers of Oshkosh, Neenah and cities in that locality and Aladison, Janesville, Beloit and cities in southern Wisconsin, that they be accorded a percentage rate based on the New York to Chicago 100 per cent tariff. The granting of their preparent would mean a decided decrease in the rate now prevailing to these points—which is a combination of the rate now prevailing to these points—which is a combination of the rate now prevailing to these points—which is a combination of the rate now prevailing to these points—which is a combination of the rate now prevailing to these points—which is a combination of the rate now prevailing to these points—which is a combination of the rate now prevailing to these points—which is a combination of the rate now prevailing to these points—which is a combination of the present earnings and expenses before the commi

Monday's Market.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—There was a scarcity of good beef cattle at all markets, both east and west, yesterday.

With 23,000 at Chicago opening day this week the number of choice beeves was smaller than a year ago, when receipts at 4,517 were among the smallest on record for Monday.

Best steers nominally steady and others weak to 10c lower than last week's close. Yesterday's top $9.75, against $11.60 a week ago, the highest on record for "regular" market cattle. After an unsuccessful effort to weaken yesterday's hog market big packers purchased freely at atrong prices. Top $6.80, with Armour's drove around $6.50. Lamb trade strong at $9.60 for best.

ARCHER'S BASEBALL PROWESS RECALLED

Was One of Greatest Throwing Catch- Wife of British Premier Secures Iners Known to the Game-A Thinking Ball Player.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Ispecial to the Gazettel
Chicago, Dec. 21.—The fact that Jimmy Archer of the Cubs had fourteen passed balls last season out of the eighteen charged against the Cub had fourteachers, and more than any other backstop in the National lengue, calls to mind Archer's great work in past wars. He was far from being at his ordin 1915, as the record plainly shows, but in his prime he was one at the greatest throwing catchers known to the game.

Archer was a real come-back, a rare bird in the national pastime dashey Jennings, smart as he is, discarded him as of no use to a major bague club and sent him to Buffaio. There Frank Chance saw him in an exhibition game and at once secured him for the Cubs, where he did brilliant work for a number of seasons.

An Accurate Thrower.

Archer, the Gazettel London, Dec. 21.—Mrs. Herbert H. Asquith, wife of the premier, today was granted an injunction to restrain the Globe from publishing articles which she alleged an libelous. In chancery court last week counsel for Mrs. Asquith said she had been accused by the Globe of disloyalty and of association with German prisoners, and had been described as a traitor and disgrace to her sex.

exhibition game and at once secured im for the Cubs, where he did brilliant work for a number of sensons.

An Accurate Thrower.

Archer, when at his best, not only threw very accurately to second base, but he was an adept at picking runners off first and third. His "squat pegging," as the Chicago critics called it, was deadly in its execution. Archer has the knack of throwing from any position by a quick snap of his hurling wing. Catching the petched ball while in a squatting position behind the bat he can shoot it can allow the batter and often to his sudden discomfiture.

Few catchers have ever been able to make this play with any degree of accuracy, but Archer is an exception. His ability in this line shows the real merit of a thinking ball player in close came. With the ordinary mechanical man, who does nothing but the obvious at all times.

Few Catchers Sure of Selves.

Not many catchers are sure enough of themselves to try snappy and unexpected throws, but these plays can eften turn the tide of victory in a close came. With runners on second and third, both of whom move up every time the ball is pitched, a smart and nerry backstop can very often pick of one of them by a quick throw, but it is seldom done, mainly because the latter is not sure enough of himself to try an unexpected play.

A bluff to throw to second, will almost invariably prove disastrous to the aggressive runner, but there are her many who ever attempt the latter piay. It is catchers like Kling and Archer who have the nerve and her skill to go through with those flays that turn in many a victory for their seam, for which the pitcher or the batter who makes a hit in the pinch gets the credit.

JOHNSTON'S ADVANCE

A PHENOMENAL ONE
A PHENOMENAL ONE
The rise of William M. Johnston to the topmost ranking American tennis players has been little short of phenomenal.
The national champion's name was not found in the list of the first ten players four years ago.
Johnston gained his first brackotts at the end of the 1913 season, when he was placed fourth with McLoughlin, Williams and Clothier ranking ahead of him.
Last year Johnston dropped to sixth. Behr and Murray being ranked in front of the Californian, in addition to the trio which led him the previous season. His feat in leaping to the trop of the list this year was due almost entirely to Johnston's sensational play in the national championship tournament. Since this tourney is the supreme test of the tennis reason there can be little, if any, grounds for fault tindies with the decision of the ranking committee.

[AN ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison. Wis., Dec. 21. — Boxing clubs throughout the state are showing signs of renewed activity as the season advances and so far indications are that this will be the best year in boxing circles in Wisconsin since the new law was passed.

A large number of fighters to abpear in preliminary bouts are training in gyms all over the state. Racine and Kenosha clubs have started upagain and are staging about the limit of two shows a month. Beloit and Gracen Ray have also opened recently, while Eau Claire has been staging bouts for some time.

Frelminary talent which has been shown at most of the bouts has been far below par, but it is expected that with the large number of clubs now running, some good youngsters with be developed.

Charles Webb Murphy, former president of the Cubs and who probably controls a share or two of baseball stock yet, has to pay a bigger income tax every year because of his realty investments. Murphy owns some choice real estate around the country, including a 50 per cent. Interest in the site at Broad and Huntingdon streets, where the Phils disport themselves on a summer day, Murphy and Mrs. Taft, wife of Charles P. Taft, owns the Phils grounds outright and collect a big rental each year. Murphy also owns much valuable theatrical property in Chicago. He is a native of Wilmington, O., and the other day bought come property in the livest part of the place and will erect a theater capable of holding 1,500 persons. The building will be a sort of memorial of Murphy's to his home town. And in addition, it probably will help swell Murphy's bank account.

No president in recent years has had so little regard for civil service reform, or for the litness of the men he appointed ot high office as has President Wilson, despite his em-phatic protestations—before he was elected. But the intest development of this indifference to the welfare of the public service has startled even his own friends in congress. He has appointed E. Lester Jones, a veterinappointed L. Lester Jones, a veterin-ary surgeon, from Culpeper, Va., as head of the Coast and Geodetic Sur-vey. Dr. Jones succeeds Otto H. USE THE LIBRARY.

A recent article in the Gazette news columns called attention to the vari-ous books in the public library on Christmas entertainment and other Christmas entertainment and other subjects of interest to those making plans for holiday celebration. It would appear that there is much literature of value in this line readily accessible to Janesville residents and that comparatively few have known of it or, knowing, have chosen to avail themselves of it.

Of course, Christmas is an infrequent blessing and books on Christmas entertainment are not generally quent blessing and books on Christmas entertainment are not generally in demand except at the present season. But there is food for reflection in the article referred to in its application to general conditions.

The Janesville public library is a well stocked and creditable repository. Seekers after information on most subjects are able to find on its shelves literature which will afford them the light they desire. Men and women in the habit of research of course are aware of this and make constant use of the library privileges.

But the others—by far the greater portion of Janesville residents. How many of them realize the treasures of information and knowledge which are at their hands? How many of them, confronted by some proposition on which they can not information and knowledge which are at their hands? How many of them, confronted by some proposition on which they can not information and knowledge which are at their hands? How many of them, confronted by some proposition on which they can not information and knowledge which are at their hands? How many of them, confronted by some proposition on which they can be informed by the confidence of the confidence

In short, there are comparatively few Janesville people who make due and proper use of the facilities provided for them. This is not saying that library parronage in Janesville is below the average. It may even be above the average. But the fact remains that, as in every city but. oe above the average. But the fact remains that, as in every city, hun-dreds, even thousands of people, who should use the library not only for recreation but as well for aid in their death there. daily lives, in their work and in their business, fail to do so. It is a splendid thing to have a fine library in the city. It is a much more splendid thing to use the library after it is at holiday time is the finest manifestation of the Christmas spirit. Not all giving, however, is wisely done. One family with a certain established reputation for worthlness and destitution may be provided with several dinners. Others less well known, perhaps too proud to make their wants public; may have nothing.

In many cases, destitution is obvious, and gifts to needy families are more or less public, and charity is seldom abused. In the larger cities some form of associated charity organization is absolutely neded, to prevent duplication and expose frauds.

This work is open to the danger festation of the Christmas spirit. Not

This work is open to the danger that charity will lose the human touch, and become a mere machine for grinding out routine beneficence. The charity visitor needs an ever vivid sympathy with misfortune. Also there are some neer-do-wells who need not charity, but the tonic advice to get out and hustle.

Where a town is not large enough for a thoroughly systematicd central charity organization, the same idea should be carried out informally. The charity committees of churches, lodges, and other organizations should consult confidentially to prevent duplication.

Every one should feel a sense of responsibility for destitution in his own neighborhood, where he knows the circumstances of distress, and can judge of degrees of desert and need. some of the more personal gifts may not be wisely made. But they bring such a friendly touch of personal relations that they are the most effective force for the heartening of the discouraged. But heartening of the discouraged. Real charity does not stop with the giving of money. It sees fortunate people in their own homes. There it can determine whether want is due to the fault of the unfortunate, and in cases of real

Will some one explain why the manufacturers of men's neckwear make the ties lavishly wide with material below the vest where they don't show, and narrow and contracted above where they do show?

President Wilson thinks that every man that owns an automobile can afford to pay an extra war tax, but in many cases ownership of a machine is due merely to superior ability to borrow money. The custom of placing a lighted candle in the window on Christmas eve is becoming popular, and it may not merely keep the witches away but help the Old Man find the key hole. The movement against unnecessary noises has been revived in New York, and it is to be hoped that it moves on to Washington and takes note of some of the congressional speeches. There is a strong feeling that the money wasted on useless army posts should be saved in order to get an appropriation to make a lot more recks navigable for rowboats.

In giving a man one of these fancy work presents, it is necessary to attach a card telling the purpose for which it is supposed to be used, as otherwise he'll never know.

barn on Mickleson Farm Near School for the Elind, Burned to the Ground Last Night.

An explosion of a lantern set fire and destroyed the barn on the N. J. Mikkleson place, below the state school for the blind, last night between leight and nine o'clock. Wallace Mikkleson was working in the stable with the lantern when it exploded for some unknown reason, setting fire to material in the barn. He fought the blaze and believed that he had it extinguished.

After leaving the barn the blaze burst out again in a more alarming fierceness and spread with amazing rapidity. The fire department was called by telephone and responded by sending two automobile tracks to the place, which is outside the city limits. An immense amount of hose was laid and water played on the adjoining building, which was endangered by the fire. A team of horses and some stable before the flames gained much headway. Appearance on Screen.

Marie Doro made her second appearance in photoplays at the Apolic yesterday in the Famous Players production of "The White Pearl."

This piquant little star of this quaintly melodramatic tale, photographs exquisitely. She has adventures such as befall few girls, even of the Graustark type of happenstance, and she takes to them picturesquely, even to nestling down in the arms of Buddha for a bit of a nap. The story is charmingly romantic, the photography splendid and the production very artistic.

THE SHORTEST DAY OF THE YEAR ARRIVES ON THE SCHEDULED TIME

Tuesday, December 21st is officially the shortest day of the year although Wednesday, the 22d, has exactly the same period of daylight time. This morning the sun made its appearance at twenty-one minutes past seven and it went to rest at thirty-four minutes past four. The same is vine Wednesday and then the days begin to get longer, a minute at a time if you please, but longer, and we start on the journey toward the summer months. This is the official opening of the winter season although the man who has looked at his coal bin is certain that winter has been here for some months or weeks past at least.

Theby is featured in it.

"Blackbirds" With Laura Hope Crews.
Laura Hope Crews who plays the Queen of the Smugglers in the big Jesse L. Lasky production of the famous crook play, "Blackbirds," which comes to the Apollo on Wednesday, lost, during the taking of the picture, a valuable diamond brooch. Strange to say, Miss Crews did not suspect any of the band of supposed crooks of the theft, with which she was rehearsing, but suspicion fell on the two policemen who were supposed to arrest the crooks.

Miss Crews missed the brooch when Miss Crews missed the brooch when she put her hand to her throat during the scene. Rehearsal was at once stopped and a search made for the jewel but without success. Giving the thing up as lost. Miss Crews resumed rehearsal. During the next few minutes, the police raided the headquarters of the crooks and at the conclusion of the scene Miss Crews again put her hand to her throat and found the pin back in place. She said nothing, no one else said anything, and the incident passed, but Miss Crews is convinced that among the police who strested the stage crooks, there must have been a real crook.

(EROTESTS FURTHER EN DIVERSION OF WATER FROM LAKE MICHIGAN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Miwaukee, Wis., Dec. 21.—Herman Blever, secretary of the Milwaukee arbot commission, today recommended that Gov. E. L. Philipp protest assinst any further diversion of water from Lake Michigan through the Chicago drainage canal. "In 1901 the government allowed the sanitary district of Chicago to diversi 1,147 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan," said Mr. Plever.

The is freely admitted that twice end from Lake Michigan," said Mr. Plever.

It is freely admitted that twice this amount if not more, is being grawn now from the lake. The present lobby at Washington is trying to prease the authorized flow to 20,000 cobic feet or more per second.

"A conservative estimate places the loss to navigation interests from a fewer of the water in the great lakes at $1,500,000 a year. The international seaterways commission has decided wat flow of 20,000 cubic feet per second from the lake would lower the water thirteen inches in five years.

Water in Milwaukee river and haries was six to ten inches lower last beason, compared with the year before, notwithstanding the unusually yet spring and summer. The dreds expense for the year is a great deal more than anticipated as a result.

Wheat Oats, Barley and Rye Yield Heavier in Wisconsin This Year Than 1914.

Heavier in Wisconsin This Year Than 1914.

There was a much larger yield in small grains, wheat, oats, barley and tye in wisconsin during tims year than in 1914, according to the government crop report issued the middle of this month. Although the acreage of the corn crop was larger this year by 50,000 acres, the production was 19,000,000 bushels less than a year ago, due to the frosts and unfavorable weather conditions.

Wisconsin's production of staple crops for the year was as follows: Corn 40,825,000 bushels, against 69,862,000, against 3,511,000 in 1914; wheat, 4,562,000, against 3,511,000 in 1914; oats, 99,875,000, against 62,100,000 in 1914; barley, 23,288,000, compared with 5,798,000 in 1914; buckwheat, 23,000, compared with 37,698,000 in 1914; hay, 4,508,000 tons, compared with 248,000 in 1914; tobacco, 36,900,000 pounds, compared with 53,808,000 in 1914. The average price quoted for this year's crop of tobacco on December 1st was six cents, compared with eleven cents a year ago.

In regard to the value of the crope for the past year the report says:

"Crop production in the state this year aggregates in quantity about 4 per cent. less than last or production, and total value of crop production, and total value of crop production, and total value of crop production, and these value of crop becomber 1st average.

It is often said that part of the meaning in what we read comes out of curselves, out of our past experience and present state of mind.

Doubtless, if I had read the verses I am going to quote you in any other month of the year except in December, they wouldn't have cried out of the rribted page at me, as they did. But it was just before Christmas and I had, just come into tquelic with a family in which the father was out of work and the five children were suffering, not from lack of toys or a constortable home, but from lack of cough elothers to keep them from being histerly cold, and enough food to keep them from being histerly cold, and enough food to keep them from being histerly the two-year-old baby was a white little thing, pitifully easy to life and take care of—she went to sleep in my arms from sheer weak-ness.

Chicago. Doc. 21.—Childhood of today is being burled under the same avalatche of greed for style and clethes that is swamping the grown-ups, according to Mrs. Jane Barnard, inventle probation officer at the court of donestic relations. Mrs. Barnard drew on Tennyson to put it this way: "Cursed be the social wants that sin against the strength of youth." "Nowadays," said Mrs. Barnard, "childhen are dressed for school as they used to dress only for parties. Sunday-so-to-meeting clothes are unknown. Every day is Sunday in childher are hoped by their playmates if they wear clothing. Children are hoped by their playmates if they wear clothing. #### Something To Write About

A long, long time ago the trees and the water, the forests, the meadows and the mountains had dwelling in them levely maidens whose whole life depended on their own tree, or meadow, or fountain. They could not live away from them unless something very wonderful happened. I wonder if you can find out how a maiden who lived in a tree could live somewhere else. These maidens were called Dryads if they lived in trees, and they had other names if they lived in the brooks and fountains. And then, in the days of the fairles and then, in the days of the fairles and wicked witches and trolls, just in the wink of an eyelash, some little princess or some poor little stepdaughter would be bound up in a well or a tree until someone rescued them. Everybody couldn't see these maidens, you know—but some people could. I wonder if this tree had a Dryad, or if some cruel step-mother did some mischief. step-mother did some mischief.

And I wonder who the boy is and why he stopped digging among the roots of this tree. See if you can write a story about him.

rea is to protect the child from injurious things:

As for the cause, the nervous tendency or vulnerability has already been mentioned, if the parents or others of the household are "nervous" the child will be, by association and by reason of bad habits—such as being up late nights, poor control of temper, too ready gratification of every trifling craving, and facility discipline in general.

But there is one very common abuse which we think should be stopped. So many little ones in the lower grades of school are drilled to take part in "performances"—and about the time the great performance is to take place, the poor little overdriven child develops chorea, directly as a tesult of the nervous strain in cident to the preparation, and in splite of the fact that the little one is apparenly anxious and pleased to take of the fact that the little one is apparently anxious and pleased to take part.

Anything that makes a child self, conscious gives ideas of superiority over the general average of young folk, or exhibits childish accomplishments—no, not childish, but precodous accomplishments—to the public is bad for that child's nervous system. Perhaps little private schoolroom speaking or entertainments, without outsiders, present, are beneficial.

They had brought into the country three or four millions in rare gems. The federal authorities had spent thousands trying to find out who these men were and how they worked. Cranford's discovery of three of them and the manner in which they worked had been the result of an accident.

One man purchased the gems another man carried them to the boat, while a third did the actual smuggling. Snies of gems would be reported, the original purchaser followed and watch; ad and that mand by the fact of in (TO BE CONTINUED.)

You will never be able to appreciate Heart Throbs" until you have it in your home, and the quicker you get it there the better pleased you will be.

Two Beautiful Volumes

In response to our offer of $10,000 in awards, more than 50,000 of what Lincoln called the "plain people of America," sent to the publishers selections of poems, stories and anecdotes that had comforted them in affliction, cheered them in adversity and inspired them with new courage. From this vast number of contributors, United States Senator Allison and Admiral Dewey chose 840 whose selections they deemed the most worthy, and the contributions that appear in "Heart Throbs" are from these 840 successful contestants. Here are hundreds of gems of literature that are near and dear to the hearts of the people. Many cannot be found elsewhere today, even in the large metropolitan libraries, and this is one

PIPES FROM AMERICA. FOR THE SOLDIERS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

New York, Dec. 21.—Soldiers in the trenches of Europe this winter are to be supplied with pipes from the United States and any American who wants to send such a gift to a Belgian, a French or a Russian fighter may do so by contributing ten cents to the Soldiers' Pipe fund.

The men at the front want and need a good and durable pipe. The demand for such an article has been very insistent, and Viscount H. Y. de Lendonck, of Wavre Ste-Catherine, Belgium, has undertaken to supply it. He has had manufactured in America an excellent pipe for the purpose; strong, light, easy to clean and sanitary, and he has in hand the receipt of contributions and the prompt shipment of the pipes to whatever army of the allies the giver designates.

For a contribution of $25 the Soldiers' Pipe fund will deliver to soldiers in Europe 250 pipes and will have printed across the bowl of each a sentence or motto in the language designated by the contributor, and even put on the bowl the donor's picture, name and address. For instance, if it is desired to send pipes to British soldiers, the inscription will be in English, Belgians and Frenchmen will receive the gifts suitably inscribed in French; Russians in their own tongue, Italians in theirs, and Serbians in Serbian. For $1 ten pipes can be sent over the water with a label in the bowl of each giving the donor's name and address, and suitably inscribed on the bowl. Single contributions of ten certs will send one pipe, inscribed on the bowl. # FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, Dec. 21, 1875.—Today is one of the shortest days in the year, its length being nine hours and five minutes.

The recent cold wave brings to mind the condition of things in Calfornia, as reported to us by 15. C. Avery, who returned from that state last week. On the ninth of this month he had satisfaction of picking strawberries and other fruits, which were abundant in the locality visited. Grass was six inches high and the
